

CLEARANCE SALE

ELEPHANTS ON THE BEACH

•Elephant seal calving time will be here soon, and beach visitors are eager to learn more about these huge, mysterious creatures.

•Readers will find this delightful book by Irene Brady an engaging introduction to this fascinating phenomenon!

*We need to make room in our warehouse ~ so this great book is available, while supplies last, at less than half-price.

(BUT ONLY THROUGH NATURE WORKS PRESS)

Read descriptions and raves from major reviewers:

Kirkus Reviews: "...attractively composed, pleasantly softened with gray or sand-colored washes, and engaging in their depiction of the seals' actions and expressions."

Children's Science Book Review

"...the author's personal observations will delight both the adult reader and the young children to whom this book should be read. The beautiful illustrations make this book a must addition for any story hour."

School Library Journal:

"...illustrations appear as pages torn from the author's notebook and set the mood for this quiet, detailed study of shore life."

Publishers Weekly "...another splendid work of particular interest to young naturalists...It isn't often one finds a scientific book with so much verve."

"This entertaining account of a day's observations of elephant seals has an informative text accompanied by appealing and equally informative illustrations."

Sea Frontiers, The International Oceanographic Foundation

Ordering Information

32 pages • 7" x 9" • illustrations on every page • ages 7-10

Softbound $ 7.95 ~ sale price $3.75

Hardbound $15.95 ~ sale price $7.75

Note: Hardbound copies are library-bound with embossed elephant seals on cover; no dust jacket. All books are non-returnable. More at www.natureworksbooks.com/eobview.html.

e-mail ~ phone ~ fax ~ mail

541-535-3189

Nature Works Press

FAX 541-535-4712

PO Box 469

orders@natureworksbooks.com

Talent, OR 97540

Minimum order 10 books ~ shipping via USPS Media Mail or UPS
We will bill you for books-plus-shipping.